There is a difference between offprints and reprints.

Offprints

are produced jointly with the journal issues and can therefore be offered at low prices (see the table above).

Authors whose manuscripts have been sent for production, will receive an email notification from springeronline.com which provides the possibility to order offprints, colour figures and OpenChoice.

The prices for colour figures and OpenChoice can be found in the Copyright Agreement.

are produced separately when the issue is already printed.

Here you can get general information about reprints and how to order them:
